

1. What is implicit bias?
 - a. The attitudes or stereotypes that affect our understanding, actions, and decisions in an unconscious manner
 - b. Using scientific research to analyze the facts to reach a conclusion
 - c. A strong partisan attachment

2. How does implicit bias impact income inequality?
 - a. Implicit bias encourages the hiring of underrepresented groups, therefore decreases income inequality.
 - b. Implicit bias can exclude women or racial/ethnic minorities from high paying jobs, which can further increase the categorical income inequality
 - c. It has no effect.

3. Which of the following is true of the relationship between education and income inequality in the United States?
 - a. Education has no effect on income inequality.
 - b. Income inequality impacts all education levels equally.
 - c. There is a growing gap between the high school- and college-educated.

4. What is the current state of income inequality in the United States?
 - a. It is at the lowest point since World War I.
 - b. It is at the highest point since World War I.
 - c. It is declining at a rapid rate.

5. Why is the current level of income inequality so difficult to address in countries like the US, Japan, and France?
 - a. Low economic growth exacerbates income inequality, tax revenue, and social problems.
 - b. Democrats keep ruining the world economy
 - c. Beyoncé's new album is distracting policy makers